Celebration of the Opening of Connellsville-Farmington RoadFreeman Elcher Tenders Use of Farm Just East of Pleasant Hill.Uniform Rank of Odd Fellows Will Parade TomorrowThe committee on grounds for the Connellsville-to-Farmington road celebration, to be held Wednesday afternoon, August 27, made a distinct "find"
when they selected the spot upon which the exercises are to be held.Freeman Elcher, owner of a farm about 200 yards east of Pleasant Hill church and school, came to town the other day and invited attention to his ground for celebration purposes and tendered its use to the committee.
Making an inspection the members of the committee quickly and unanimously agreed that no more ideal spot could be found. It consists of six acres of pasture land, gently sloping and having access to the main road.It is enclosed and provides ample space for parking any number of automobiles and still leave plenty of room for all the exercises, the staging of the sports program and other features. The speakers stand will be placed at a point where the audience can gather on ground which forms a sort of amphitheater in front of the Pleasant Hill church and school will provide comfortable shelter.The ladies of the churches in the Indian Creek Valley district will prepare a refreshment stand, this being the only concession the committee is charged with allowing upon the ground.A meeting of all the sub-committees will be held at the office of General Chairman A. M. Haines at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon at which reports will be received and action taken to complete the arrangements to insure the complete success of the first celebration of its kind to be held in this section.Interest in the affair is growing as the date for it approaches. The mountain people in particular are looking forward to it as a very important occasion and are planning to have large delegations from all parts of their community present to take part.Event No. 1.—100-yard free style

Promises to Fair

LONDON, Neb., Aug. 19.—Charles W. Bryan, Democratic vice-presidential nominee, makes his campaign speech to mothers and farmers.His acceptance speech delivered here last night was given over to stressing the advantages which the Democratic ranks offer to these two classes of voters.To the mothers, Bryan promised
"an equality with man in employment, compensation and jury service;
abolition of child labor; prohibition of law enforcement."To the farmers he pledged tariff reduction, return of the federal reserve system to its original purpose, development of waterways from the Gulf of Mexico to the Atlantic and in cooperative creation of an export marketing corporation and reclamation development for the west.Bryan, hailed his running mate, John W. Davis, as "the platform of his Democratic" and "the most progressive platform covering the tried and practical measures for the economic freedom and prosperity of the people that has ever been presented.""The right place is by the side of man," he said. "Their blood is mingled in their offspring and they are united as no others can be in regarding the home, the unit of society, the nursery of the future. The Democratic party has no principles, policy or plans that it cannot submit to their judgment and their sense of justice."While he did not mention specifically his objections to observance of defense day, he said:"War propaganda, mobilization, demonstrations of the civil and industrial resources of the country
when we are at peace with the world unnecessarily inflame the mind of the American youth, are a great economic waste and mislead the people
as to the true situation of the world and the true intention of the United States government and should be discouraged by all friends of world peace.""The only hope of the world is found in the substitution of machinery for peace in place of machinery for war.""Our party will endeavor to secure an international agreement by which the use of arms will be restricted to cases of actual or threatened invasion. This may require time but it is worth waiting for and worth waiting for."The exterior and interior walls of

LAYMONS SELECT PERMANENT PLACE FOR THEIR REUNIONS

About 200 relatives and friends attended the seventh annual reunion of the Laymon family on Saturday at the home of Irvin Laymon, near Pennsville. Among the friends who attended were members of the Nickler family from different parts of Ohio, some of whom were residents of this section of Pennsylvania about 35 years ago and who had not seen some of their former friends since that time until they met at the reunion.

Liquor Under Hay Not His, Plea of Workhouse Prisoner

Application for suspension of sentence was asked in a petition filed in court in Uniontown today in the case of James Knox of Menallen township who has served five months of a sentence of 15 in a liquor case. The plea is that liquor found under a haystack on the Knox farm was the property of others. Judge B. H. Reppert directed that the petition be filed and that the evidence as to the rightful owners be placed before the district attorney.

The defense that liquor in the possession of J. Golub and Jon Simon of Uniontown when they were arrested had been found and was being taken to the office of the district attorney fell on deaf ears. "We have heard that story before," Judge Reppert said. Fines of $350 each and nine months to the workhouse were imposed.

Every City and Hamlet Expected to Observe National Defense Day

America's greatest demonstration in patriotism and preparedness is not for September 12 National Defense Day as it is to be called.

On that day in every city and hamlet of the United States, in field and factory and outlying island possessions, wherever the Stars and Stripes are unfurled, citizens are asked to offer their services to their country just as if an actual war, instead of a mere belief war, had been declared. A large part of the vast combatant potentialities of the nation will be mobilized to show what its military organizations could do if the actual emergency arose.

The demonstration will be a tribute to General John J. Pershing commander-in-chief of the American expeditionary forces during the war. It will also be his salutatory as on the following day he automatically retires from the office of chief of staff which he has held since the war and from active service in the United States Army, having reached the retiring age of 64 years.

Defense Day will be the first practical test of the peace time working of the National Defense Act a test in which every man, woman and child in the United States should be interested. The date selected is the anniversary of the battle of St. Mihiel, September 12, 1918, the first operation of the American Army in France.

The success of this day—a demonstration of the organization of a nation of 110,000,000 organizing which has been accomplished quietly, efficiently, peacefully, almost unobserved and unknown without interruption of their productive pursuits and depending only on the ability and voluntary patriotism of its men and women—will be in the opinion of General Pershing, be an achievement greater than anything which he accomplished in France.

On Defense Day itself however Washington or the War Department will not direct but merely observe the local communities and the responsible local citizens will work out the problem with the machinery which is in their home cities and towns today. Except for the militia company an occasional recruiting officer a graduate of an officers' training camp or a reserve officer, none with a definite duty in a vast skeleton organization this machinery did not exist when the last war was declared.

Why the L. C. Smith Cuts Better Stencils

The cutting of stencils for duplicating machines is a precise and difficult operation.

There are several reasons why the best results are obtained on an L. C. Smith & Bros. typewriter.

The carriage is rigid and is not shifted for capital letters. Ball bearing construction throughout eliminates vibration and lost motion.

Equally important is the exclusive feature of interchangeable platens making it possible for the operator to use a platen of the correct hardness for clean sharp stencil cutting.

It also allows the operator to clean off all dirt and moisture from the platen, the feed rolls and the metal parts of the paper feed, without the aid of a mechanic.

On machines where the platen is not removable, the surface of the platen soon becomes worn, pitted and uneven, making it impossible to cut a clear stencil.

The L. C. Smith is the ideal machine for stencil cutting.

TO WHOM CREDIT IS DUE.

The acceptance by France and Germany of the Dawes plan for the adjustment of German reparations is by all odds the most significant event, and most far-reaching in its effects, of anything that has transpired in Europe since the signing of the Treaty of Versailles. In fact, it even surpasses that treaty in its importance in that it assures, more certainly than did the treaty, the final ending of the war.

The adoption of the Dawes report by the League of Nations will have the effect of stabilizing industrial and commercial conditions in Europe and thereby accomplishing what has been impossible during the years of maneuvering by European politicians since the signing of the Armistice.

With the assurance that a revival of business in Europe will very shortly take place, there will be a vigorous and healthy stimulation of American exports of farm and manufactured products and staple commodities. With enlargement of our European trade there will be renewed activity in every line at home, employment will increase, more money will be placed in circulation and an era of prosperity will be ushered in which will assume the proportions but be free from the usages features and hectic conditions which characterized war time. The resumption of trade with Europe and a constant flow of our products to the markets of the world will be the strongest guarantee for world peace.

America at large and the Coolidge administration in particular can take a just pride in this accomplishment which will do more for the rehabilitation of Europe and the promotion of peace throughout the world, than the skill or scheming of diplomats or the boasted League of Nations. And it was achieved by plain Americans who spurned the knowledge of financial, industrial and commercial affairs to a common sense solution of the most intricate problem of the kind ever presented.

To General Dawes and Mr. Young, acting as representatives of the United States and the Coolidge Administration, belongs the credit for this surpassing achievement. It has made General Dawes a world figure and gives to President Coolidge a prestige which will be enhanced not detracted from, by the efforts of the Democratic nominee to belittle the efforts and accomplishments of the Republican Administration in establishing a real foreign policy and practically and effectively aiding in laying the foundations of permanent world peace.

Without violation of the cardinal principle of our government to the satisfaction of all the United States will cooperate in the control to be exercised over Germany in the fulfillment of the obligations assumed by acceptance of the Dawes plan. The United States however, retains its independence and freedom of action unimpaired by dictation from a superior government in Europe to which it would be subject had membership been taken in the League of Nations.

America has thus been advanced to a firmer position as leader among the nations of the earth which position it will maintain and make still more secure under the leadership of President Coolidge and General Dawes, to whose wisdom, foresight and sound common sense Europe and the whole world will ever be debtor for what has been accomplished toward settling Europe's post-war problems on an economic, not a political, basis.

GETTING READY TO GET OUT THE VOTE.

Precedent to "getting out the vote," which is to be an activity of organizations of various kinds this fall, there should be an equally systematic movement for the purpose of having citizens qualify as voters.

The steps necessary to this end must shortly be taken and should be taken upon the initiative of citizens themselves. These steps are two in number. First, to pay state and county tax and, second, to attend to the duty of registering.

Under the provisions of the Personal Registration Act, which applies to Connelville and Tiltonville and other cities of the third-class, the registrars-assessors will sit at the regular polling places in each election precinct on Thursday, September 4, Tuesday, September 15 and Saturday, October 3. The hours will be from 8 A. M. to 1 P. M. from 2 to 5 P. M. and from 7 to 11 P. M. on each of the days named. By appearing in person before the registrar on either of the three days named, bringing the receipt for state and county taxes paid within two years the very simple duty of qualifying as an elector can be performed.

To Broadcast Pennsylvania's Advantages for Tourists

The State Publicity Bureau of the Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce has announced a prize of $200 for the best slogan to be used in broadcasting Pennsylvania's many advantages as a tourist state. The bureau has in preparation an illustrated booklet which will picture Pennsylvania's wealth of beautiful scenery, historic places, ideal rural life, splendid highways and modern cities, not forgetting the vast natural and industrial resources of the Keystone State. Anyone can submit a slogan or title for this booklet which will be one of several steps in an intensive campaign of advertising Pennsylvania's charms to tourists. Slogans for entering slogan suggestions are obtainable from the local Chamber of Commerce or from the State Publicity Bureau, Telegraph Building, Harrisburg.

Other states have been bidding for the interest of tourists and especially the automobilists through publicity campaigns and now Pennsylvania, with much more to offer vacationists and motor tourists than many states which annually enjoy a rush of visitors from outside, is to come into her own. Through the State Publicity Bureau thousands of people have already learned of the natural wonders and other sights worth seeing incident to an extensive tour of the land of William Penn.

Nowhere can be found finer roads or more diversified scenic interest. Rich in historic lore, the Keystone State unfolds many pages of delight to those who revel in visiting spots hallowed by great historic events. Nature has extended herself in this land of tree-clad mountains and placid valleys to paint a picture irresistible for those who love the out-of-doors. When more people know about Pennsylvania, more people are sure to come to see and enjoy what she has to offer to the thought of the Publicity Committee of the State Chamber of Commerce and so it is planned that Pennsylvania shall no longer hide her light from the world.

More than ten thousand tourists have already this summer taken advantage of the information service of the State Publicity Bureau and no less than 300,000 pieces of Pennsylvania advertising literature have been distributed.

The importance of the next November election becomes apparent to all who realize that the officials to be elected are President and Vice President of the United States, members of Congress from every district in the state, a judge of the Superior Court, auditor general, state treasurer, state senator, state representative in the General Assembly from every district. In addition there are also proposed Amendments to the State Constitution to be approved or rejected by the voters.

The officers elected in November will guide the nation and state for four years and make the laws. It is a duty you owe to yourself and the community and state of which you are a part to both qualify and vote and to participate upon your associates and fellow workers the necessity of doing likewise.

The Slacker Vote

New York Herald-Tribune

A national association is being formed to quicken the conscience of the slacker vote. There is need of such a crusade. In the 1920 election 25,674,000 votes were cast, but native and naturalized citizens of voting age numbered 54,420,000.

Political slackerism is a more ripe among the native born than among the naturalized for in 1920 the number of native born voters exceeded the number of actual voters by 11,000,000. Some allowance must be made for the practical disfranchisement of a considerable part of the population of the southern states. But in the north and west the pernicious stay-at-home habit is purely voluntary.

In this election a full vote is especially desirable. Too many people who complain of misgovernment by the politicians, bloc oppression and neglect of the interests of the ordinary citizen fail to register where personal registry is required, and where it is not required work or amuse themselves on election day. This year they have a chance to go on record against the aggressions of compact and greedy minorities and to show their appreciation of a President who has had the courage to defy all blocs and to use his power to protect the unorganized, average American.

The bloc voters will all be out, each with his special ax to grind. It would be an inspiring exhibition of the value of majority rule and the American faith in it if the stay-at-homes, both men and women, should decide to have their say also and if the presidential vote of 1934 should be increased at least 50 percent over that of 1920. Our national problem can never be solved satisfactorily by dodging them and turning government over to a plurality of the plurality of the voters.

Party for Judge Levergood.

A surprise party, in honor of Judge John Levergood of Shawnee, Okla., was held last night at the home of his mother, Mrs. J. C. Levergood, in Dawson. About 45 persons were present. Judge Levergood, a former Dawson resident, is visiting his home for the first time in six years. All his old friends were present. This also included a representation of Knights of Malta. He will return to Oklahoma about August 21. The evening was spent in dancing, music and games. A lunch was served. Yellow flowers were used in the decorations.

Using literature and tourist maps have been distributed through this agency to people in other states. A tourist guide, complete with accurate road maps showing all of the main highways of the state and containing descriptive matter for quick reference will be published for broadcast distribution over the country in advance of next tourist season. The pictorial booklet will feature actual photographs of beautiful spots and places of outstanding interest. The collaboration of officials of Pennsylvania communities, the State Forestry Department, Chambers of Commerce and numerous patriotic individuals in collecting photographic material for this state-wide advertising book insures its completeness in depicting all that goes to make up the lure of Pennsylvania's out-of-doors. The book will be distributed free. The guide book will enable the tourists to plan trips with the convenience of the most satisfactory accommodations, along the way.

Rules of the $200 prize slogan contest are simple. The committee desires that Pennsylvania first of all shall know more about the wonders of their own state. Living in the midst of such advantages of landscape, climate and the like, it is believed that Pennsylvanians should be accorded the opportunity to choose a slogan which will carry the message of invitation and goodwill to the people of other states.

The Ozarks of Missouri—"The Land of a Million Smiles" as the "show me" state's publicity describes them, have a romantic charm which every year adds to the number of visitors for rest and recreation. Pennsylvania is a Vacation Land where literally there are "Miles of Smiles" and the committee wants a slogan that will properly describe the charm which will carry the message of invitation and goodwill to the people of other states. The title or slogan must not exceed five words. The contest closes on Saturday, September 20 at 5 P. M., and all slogans, to be considered must be in by that time. Announcement of the winning slogan will be made at the annual meeting of the Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce at Pittsburgh, October 3.

Dealers in Wild Animals And Birds Hold Up State Game Body for High Rates

By United Press.
HARRISBURG, Aug. 18.—The provision of the game code requiring expenditure of 20 per cent of the hunters' license fees for restocking purposes was condemned by the State Game Commission in the report to Governor Pritchett for the biennial, announced today.

Dealers, knowing that a certain amount of money is to be spent on the commission for fancy prices on the game that is to be purchased, the report of the commission states it seems the supply of game is limited and the commission wants to use its best judgment to yield the largest return to sportsmen.

The Game Commission received a total revenue from all sources last year of $772,452.44 and spent $608,148.04. Hunters' license fees netted $613,007.75. In 1922, the revenue came to $562,115.09 of which $503,600.87 was from hunters' license fees. Expenditures that year totaled $404,272.88. This gives the commission a favorable balance in the treasury of $158,932.21.

The report indicates an increase in the amount of game killed each year and shows a greater number of people participating in this form of recreation.

Nearly 18,000 tons of game constituted the kill during the two year period it is indicated. In 1922 there were 8,700 tons killed and although the total kill for 1923 has not been completed about the same quantity was brought down including 23 large bull elk that were not included in the 1922 report when there was no open season on elk.

Last year a total of 600,000 poisonous baited game in Pennsylvania. Approximately 100,000 of this number landed on their own land and were spread the necessity of obtaining a license under the present law. This is about seven per cent of the population.

The Game Commission shows some alarm in the increase in the number of hunting accidents. During the two years 86 persons lost their lives and 220 persons were injured in hunting accidents. This is too high, the commission reported. Inexperience and carelessness were attributed as major causes of these accidents.

The commission urges the governor to make no recommendations for change in the present game code. The game code in its present form should be given a thorough trial and we are strongly of the opinion that no amendments should be recommended for consideration at the present time," the report states.

CHILD OF FOUR TRAVELS ALONE FROM OKLAHOMA

Little Catherine Graft Arrives at Tarr Bearing Red Cross Tag.

HAD BEEN WELL CARED FOR

Special to The Courier.
MOUNT PLEASANT, Aug. 18.—Yesterday morning Catherine Graft, four and one-half years old, arrived at the home of her grandfather, John Graft, at Tarr from Lawton, Okla. Catherine had traveled that distance by herself.

Raymond Graft, son of John Graft, joined the Army and was stationed in Oklahoma. There he married and died. The Grafts at Tarr wished to have their granddaughter. It was not convenient for the mother to bring the child so she started on her long journey herself under the protection of the Red Cross.

Catherine came from Lawton to St. Louis and there changed trains for Pittsburg.

On the tag that Catherine brought with her was:

"My name is Catherine Graft. I am going to my grandfather, Mr. John Graft, Commercial Hotel, Tarr, Pa. Take good care of me. In case of accident wire American Red Cross, Fort Hill, Okla."

On the suitcase was: "This belongs to Catherine Graft, who is going to her grandfather, Mr. John Graft, Commercial Hotel, Tarr, Pa. It contains food, and necessary clothing for her trip."

Catherine did not touch the food in the suitcase. Travelers saw to it that she had plenty to eat.

A golf tournament was held at the Pike Run Country Club on Saturday. First prizes were carried off by Miss Irene Hubbard of Mount Pleasant and Vinton Overholt of Scottsdale; second prize, by Mrs. Walters of Greensburg and Mr. Slick of Pittsburg, third, by Mrs. Kirk Bryce of Mount Pleasant and Mr. Love, of Pittsburg. A junior tournament will be held next Saturday.

Teachers Chosen.
Two new teachers have been selected in the borough schools. They are Miss Iovada Fulmer, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. S. Fulmer, and Miss Mary Berg. Announcement will likely be made today of the schools to which the teachers will be assigned.

To Four New England.
James S. Braddock will leave Wednesday to be the guest of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Stevenson of Titusville on an automobile tour of the New England States. He expects to be gone about two weeks.

Gehenna Place of Horror.
The word Gehenna is translated "hell" in the Bible. Gehenna, strictly speaking, was the valley of Hinnom, a deep narrow gully south of Jerusalem, where, after Abaz introduced the worship of fire gods, the Sun, Baal and Moloch, the Jews, under Manasseh, made their children pass through the fire and offered them as burnt offerings. "We-Judah" defied the valley making it a receptacle of carcasses and unclean corpses, in which worms were continually breeding. A perpetual fire was kept burning to consume this putrefying matter; hence it became the image of that awful place where all that are unfit for the holy life are supposed to be cast.

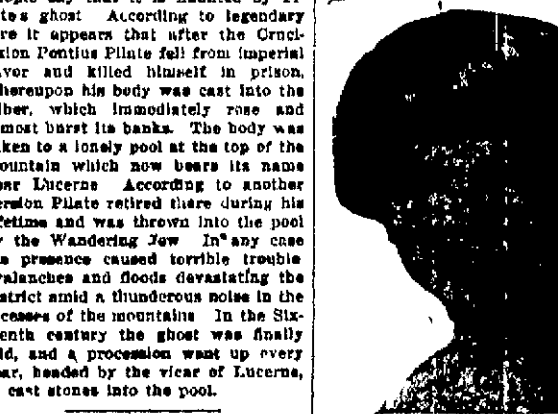

THREE OF SIX WOMEN WHO MARRIED KID MCCOY.

An affair of the heart finally was responsible for the arrest of Norman Stubby, the well known Kid McCoy of the prize ring, when he was held by police following discovery of the body of Mrs. Thelma Moss, his latest love, in her Los Angeles apartment. McCoy had been married three times. Three of his former wives are shown here. He married Mrs. George Wheelock in 1917, divorced her, married and divorced her the second time, and then married her the third time only to die in 1923. The eighth wife of the former boxer was Dugger Dahl, a well known dancer, whom he wed in 1922. He left her three weeks later and also obtained a divorce.

Legend of Pontius Pilate.
Among the Swiss Alps is a mountain named after Pontius Pilate. Country people say that it is haunted by Pilate's ghost. According to legendary lore it appears that after the Crucifixion Pontius Pilate fell from imperial favor and killed himself in prison, whereupon his body was cast into the river, which immediately rose and almost burst its banks. The body was taken to a lonely pool at the top of the mountain which now bears his name near Lucerne. According to another version Pilate retired there during his lifetime and was thrown into the pool by the wandering Jew. In any case his presence caused terrible trouble and floods devastating the district amid a thunderous noise in the recesses of the mountains. In the sixteenth century the ghost was finally laid, and a procession went up every year, headed by the vicar of Lucerne, to cast stones into the pool.

Duck's Use of Wings.
Do ducks use their wings while swimming under water? The question is discussed frequently among sportsmen and nature students, and opinions sometimes differ. Testimony of reliable authorities says Popular Mechanics Magazine, supports the belief that various species of ducks and geese, loons and other diving birds do not use their wings when swimming beneath the surface for food or in trying to escape capture. A ruddy duck was observed on Lake Michigan not long ago feeding in deep or very fast of clear water. As it got well started on its downward plunge, the wings, about two-thirds extended, were used in quick, short strokes, at the rate of about one a second, to assist in propelling it and in rising to the top, as well.

The body of Bernice Chalmers, daughter of a wealthy farmer of Ottawa, Ill., was found in a stream after she had disappeared from the home of her uncle, Sheriff M. J. Walters, August 10. Circumstances indicate the child was kidnapped and slain in much the same manner as Robert Franks, Chicago school boy.

The Simple Facts About Electric Refrigeration

Kelvinator electric refrigeration is used in thousands of homes. It fits right into the line of modernization of the refrigerator you now have. It is entirely automatic. It supplies dry, even cold, keeping food at the same temperature all the time—it frames cubes of ice for table use. In its ice trays, desserts and salads are frozen—Kelvinator for better refrigeration never fails, and it's the only one. Its economy, cleanliness and convenience make it the only one. Talk with them. Let us send you literature, or, better still, come to our showrooms, see Kelvinator demonstrated, and learn the simple facts about it.

Modern Heating Plant Is Now A Necessity

In the days of our forefathers, when their only garments were the skins of wild animals and their only weapons were stone axes, the whole family huddled around a small wood fire for protection.

How different are things today! Practically every home has a heating system of some sort or other.

The best heating plant is the VAPOR HEATING SYSTEM. If you are not getting the results you should from your plant, and expect to replace it with a later type, stop in and let us explain, in detail, the VAPOR HEATING SYSTEM.

The Paramount

"THE RED WARNING," with Jack Hoxie in the leading role, provides splendid entertainment today at the Paramount.

There is considerable drama woven into this Hoxie Western, although it is not essentially a dramatic type of play. It is rather a fast motion picture of the open range country, whose chief entertainment value lies in the thrills and wonderful display of riding which it offers. It is dramatic in places, but it is a case of dramatic situations rather than dramatic action. There is considerable dramatic value in the scene where the old plainsman is found dying on the desert by the two prospectors; and again in the scene where the young prospector, played by Hoxie, overtakes the villain and they stage a big hand-to-hand fight in the toy mountain stream.

Hoxie is good in the featured role and his work should not only please his present fans, but should gain him more admirers. He is particularly suited for this type of rollicking-action screen play.

Others in the cast are William Walsh, Elmer Field, Fred Kohler, Frank Rice, Jim Walsh, Ralph McCullough and Ben Corbett.

Robert North Broadway, directed the filming of the picture.

Wednesday and Thursday, "A Million to Burn," featuring Herbert Rawlinson and "The Pilgrims," the ninth of "The Chronicles of America" will be shown.

The Soisson

"WHEN THE DEVIL DRIVES," on view today at the Soisson, shows the cross-section of the hearts of two women. Leah Baird wrote the story and also appears in one of the leading roles.

In this strong dramatic feature Miss Baird, as author, has endeavored to vividly portray the mind workings of two girls, born, reared and living in entirely different environments. One, religiously inclined, and the other, inclined to the contrary, when dominated by the same impulses or affected by practical the same sequences of events, act along identical lines.

These two women offer interesting character studies. Miss Baird chose for herself the role of the bad woman, and plays it with rare skill, charm and dramatic restraint. The good woman is portrayed with much feeling by Arline Pretty. Leading male roles are excellent—acted by Richard Tucker and Vernon Steel. Katherine Lewis plays a vivid bit. The film has that thoroughly delightful, but seldom found, effect of making you feel better—it restores your faith in human nature, without preaching.

Wednesday and Thursday, "Innocence," starring Anna Q. Nilsson, will be shown.

The Orpheum

"The Governor's Lady," showing today and tomorrow at the Orpheum, is a screen version of David Belasco's stage success.

The play was written by Alice Bradley, enjoyed a successful run at the Republic theatre in New York in 1912 and later played in all the principal cities from coast to coast. It took Mr. Belasco but a few hours after receiving the play to decide that it would be a great popular hit and to close with the author. The action which delighted the thousands who saw the play on the stage has been intensified in the screen version, which has been declared to be one of the best pictures of the year.

No detail has been omitted in translating the play to the screen.

In addition to a story with a vital, American theme, accurate and superb settings, the photoplay has a brilliant cast to fittingly portray this story. Robert T. Haines plays the role of the ex-miner who advances to the governorship of his state and then three of the wife who helped him to climb, because she has not kept up with his advancement. Jane Grey plays the Governor's Lady. The supporting players include Ann Luther, Frazier Coulson and Leslie Austin.

Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Dorothy Dalton will be seen in "The Moral Struggle."

Barrel Rolling To Save Drowning Almost Sure Death

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—Barrel-rolling as a method to free the lungs of water and revive persons taken unconscious from the water, was condemned as "most hazardous" today by experts of the Red Cross life saving service at headquarters of the organization.

"It is, to nearly drowned persons," was said, "almost as certain in dealing death as a dose of corrosive poison is to a determined suicide. Probably more lives have been sacrificed during the minutes lost in searching for a barrel than were preserved through use of the barrel."

The simplicity of the prone pressure method of resuscitation, the expert declared, has "outlawed" the barrel-rolling and has demonstrated how much more effective and easier is the former expedient.

In a statement promulgated by the recent death of a youth here when, after 14 minutes in the water, he was rolled on a barrel, the Red Cross said "Forget the barrel; waste no time. Lay the victim on his stomach; extend one arm directly over the head; bend the other arm at the elbow and rest his cheek on the hand to keep nose and mouth off the ground. Kneel facing forward, straddling his legs. Place palms of hands on each side of back, just above belt line. With arms straight, lean gradually forward, pressing downward and forward and counting slowly, one, two, three. Swing your body back, count slowly, four, five. Straighten arms and repeat pressure. Keep up work steadily until breathing begins. As soon as a doctor takes charge, remove victim, well covered, on a stretcher to a hospital or to his home. Don't get discouraged; stick to it for two or even three hours if necessary."
